Original Poetry.

The Child's Prayer.

BY F. LILLIAN ROBERTS.

Heavenly Father lead us ever,
With thy gentle, tender care;
Give us grace—just now we need thee,
Holy Jesus bring us there.

Where the angels praise thee ever,
Where the saints have gone before,
Guide thy children all together,
To thy arms forevermore.

Gather all thy dear lambs to thee,
Let thy teachings be of such,
When thou didst give that life's lesson;
In that one word, "Inasmuch."

For our foes, O Lord have mercy,
Lighten daily every care;
To the faint and weary hearted,
Show the light of endless cheer.

Let thy light so shine upon us
That we'll never know a fear,
E'en through the gloom we'll scan brightness,
We will feel thee ever near.

Senator Bayard's Address Before the Middletown Agricultural Society.

We have never heard the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, mentioned as a farmer, but he recently made an address at Middletown, before the Agricultural Society of the State he represents, with so much distinction in the Senate, and put so much sense and observation into it, that it is to be feared the farmers who listened to him will really conclude that the study of the law is the royal road to agriculture. Mr. Bayard began by referring to the general ignorance of farming which prevails among farmers, and said that "if we except the task of Legislation, no other occupation in our country is so frequently entered upon by persons deficient in the necessary information, as agriculture. The Senator from Delaware long since proved his competency to undertake the business of legislation by an efficiency which we are glad to see has been so appreciated by his State as to insure his continuance in that occupation; and this address shows that he is, in theory at least, as good a farmer as he is a legislator. There is hardly a waste word in his speech. His references to the deplorable exodus of farmer boys from the country to the feverish life of great cities; the rich resources of the soil of the Peninsula, and its adaptation to the serious work of cultivation; the necessity and advantage of breeding good cattle and horses; the true meaning and significance of the idea of chivalry; the way to treat horses—advising rigid economy in the purchase of whips; and his suggestions of possible improvements in farm houses, show a mind at once thoughtful, practical and flexible.

But the most admirable sentiment in the speech is the one with which it closes. On the eve of an important election upon which his own continuance in public life depended, Senator Bayard, instead of saying a dexterous thing in favor of his own party, or trying to rouse the sectional feeling upon which his party has relied too long, spoke simply and boldly against that excess of party spirit to which most politicians are too ready to appeal when their own interests are at stake. He hoped that the Association might be kept forever free from any influence of partisan dissensions, and added: "I am an earnest believer in the duty of every American citizen to take an interest in the political affairs of his country, and yet I can well see the need of self-watchfulness lest party feelings destroy our sympathies with worthy men whose conscience leads them into paths of opinion widely different from our own. Therefore, if this Association shall bring the hands of party opponents to meet even for a single day in friendly clasp, shall cause exchanges of kindly greeting, and a cessation of the bitter feelings engendered by political opposition, that alone will make it well worthy of your support."

There is no lesson more urgently needed than this throughout the country. Toleration and not indifference is the spirit required to face the difficulties of the immediate future. Men who care nothing about politics are sure, sooner or later, to fall into the hands of knavish demagogues; and those who are so furiously wedded to their own organizations that they would rather vote for a rogue of their own party than for an honest man of any other, are already sold and delivered. Especially in the Southern States is there pressing need of this discriminating interest in political affairs. The wise words of Senator Bayard to his fellow-citizens of Delaware apply with still greater force to those whose lot is cast in the States further South, which have been racked and tortured for years by the contending factions of knaves who have worked them for their own benefit. If the Southern people at large, of both parties and all colors, could be only made to take the lesson to heart which we have been preaching to them ever since the war ended, it would be the only thing necessary to begin the healing of their wounds. Let them take as much interest in politics as ever—more, in some cases. But let their chief care be that no man shall be nominated or voted for unless he is known to be honest, and if a man's own party does not give him the chance to vote for the right sort of man, vote for the other side without flinching. There is no other remedy for bad government in a Democracy.—N. Y. Tribune.

EDWARD REYNOLDS, Editor.

MIDDLETOWN, DEL.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1874.

NOW FOR 1876.

For President of the United States,

HON. THOMAS F. BAYARD,

Of Delaware.

Notice.—Persons who are indebted to us—and where people owe they know it—will greatly oblige us by calling and settling their accounts or by remitting the amounts due by mail.

Our columns are so completely filled, this week, with the proceedings of the court in the trial of Joseph H. Taylor for the murder, by drowning, of Robert A Mackey, in Drawyer's Creek last summer, that we have scarcely room for anything else. Much other interesting matter, including a communication from Warwick, Md., is, in consequence, crowded out and we have to defer them until next week.

A rumor has been in circulation for some days past that Gov. Ponder contemplates pardoning I. C. West, the hero of the Dover-Turner tragedy. For the credit of the State and the Governor himself we earnestly hope this report is incorrect. West escaped the more severe punishment for the crime of murder, and his sentence for the crime of arson was assuredly sufficiently light to make the exercise of Executive clemency in his behalf entirely unnecessary. If popular sympathy on account of his supposed aberration of mind secured for him an escape from punishment for his greater crime of murder, no excuse should be drawn therefrom for interfering with the punishment inflicted upon him for the lesser crime of which he was convicted.

Letter from New Castle.

Dear Transcript.—Either because I was incorrectly informed myself, or misunderstood my informant, the mistake of saying that Woodward's trial, for murder, would precede Taylor's crept into my last communication. By that error I got the order of the trials directly reversed.

On Friday morning the trial of Jos. H. Taylor, for the murder, by drowning, of Robert A. Mackey, was begun, and it has "dragged its slow length along" for four whole days; the argument having been concluded on Tuesday, by prolonging the session of the afternoon quite into the evening—till 8.30. The court being unprepared to charge the jury at that time they were returned to their room, under custody of the bailiffs for another, the fifth night. The next morning, upon opening court, the jury reappeared in their seats, and received a clear, concise, fair and impartial charge from Judge Wootten, the presiding judge. They then went back to their room for deliberation, where they remained until four o'clock, P. M.. when they returned to the court room for a repetition of the general charge of the court, and for special information as to their power to return a verdict for a less grave offense than murder in the first degree. Being fully instructed, they again made their exeunt. Everybody seemed to think that, now, the jury would not be slow in agreeing upon their verdict, as the inference was, that the objections to a verdict of guilty of the first degree of murder, would effect a compromise upon an offense of less turpitude, as soon as they had received the assurance of the court that they were at liberty to do so. In that expectation they were disappointed, however, as the jury remained out all night—the sixth that they had suffered this "durance vile."

No murder case, within my knowledge, which has attracted so large a concourse of spectators, and developed, in advance of trial, so much anxiety and speculation as to its termination and result, was ever attended, during the progress of its trial, with fewer incidents of an exciting, or, I may say, interesting character, than this.

It seemed to have been a heavy, dull drag from beginning to end. No one was brilliant or eloquent enough to excite a thrill of enthusiasm, and never was there an allusion sufficiently pathetic to moisten a cheek. The prisoner and his relatives, even, never seemed conscious of the gravity of the offense with which he stood charged, or of the magnitude of the issue involved as it might affect him and them

As I write, the time for the departure of the mail draws near, and I fear I shall not be able to include the verdict of the jury.

Our community was grievously shocked, yesterday, by the announcement of the sudden death of Mr. Wm. Couper. He has long been a valuable citizen of New Castle. By his intelligence, integrity and spotless life, he commanded universal respect and esteem; and by his kindly and affectionate disposition he drew around himself many devoted friends. He was, at the time, a member of the Grand Jury in the active discharge of his duties, and, being taken sick in their room, died soon after he was conveyed to his home. More Anon.

TRIAL OF JOSEPH H. TAYLOR

For the Murder of Robert A. Mackey.

THE FULL EVIDENCE.

New Castle, Nov. 20.

Court opened at 10 o'clock, Judges Wootten, Houston and Wales on the bench. Grand Jury called and retired to their rooms. The general and special jury lists were then called.

The case of State vs. Joseph H. Taylor, charged with the murder of Robert A. Mackey, at Drawyer's Creek, near Odessa, about July 26th, 1874. Attorney General John B. Pennington and Deputy Attorney General W. R. Hodgson, for the State. Hons. T. F. Bayard and William G. Whiteley, for Jos. H. Taylor. The prisoner was brought in between two bailiffs, and was dressed with unusual care and appeared in good health, but a trifle anxious. His father and brother were seated in the bar near him. State and defence being ready, the drawing of the jury commenced, the Attorney General asking that each juror be sworn on the voir dire. As each juror took the stand he was sworn to make true answers to such questions as were put to him. The counsel for the defense then asked him if he had formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner at the bar, after which the Attorney-General asked him if he had conscientious scruples against finding a verdict of guilty in the case where death penalty follows. If satisfactory answers followed, he was sworn, provided the defence did not peremptorily challenge.

The drawing of the jury was completed at 11.07 a. m.

Attorney General Pennington opened the case by addressing the jury as follows:

You and I, gentlemen of the jury, are called upon this morning in discharge of the duties the laws of our State have imposed upon us, which, of all times, this one is most unpleasant. A great crime is alleged to have been committed in the jurisdiction of this Court, and the prisoner at bar stands charged with the perpetration of that crime. It is one in which you as guardians of the peace and the laws of your State, are called to investigate.

The prisoner is deeply interested. It is a case for your deep consideration. You are to forget everything that pertains to every other business and give this your earnest consideration.

The prisoner is charged with the murder of Robert E Mackey, and it is for you to determine, after hearing all the evidence, whether the prisoner in the terms of the indictment has taken the life of R. E. Mackey, and upon your verdict depends the welfare of the State and the happiness of the prisoner. Mr. Pennington then defined murder from the text books, then went on to say: The prisoner is charged with murder in the first degree. The statutes of Delaware being the law under which he is tried, has laid down two degrees of murder, first and second, as says the laws of Delaware, page 764, Code. Mr. P. then drew the distinction between the two degrees and continued: Now, gentlemen, it is not necessary that I should further explain murder, but in one word the prisoner stands charged with murder in the first degree, and it is my duty to say to you, it is either a case of first degree or one of not guilty. Now gentlemen this is no pleasant duty to perform for you or I. I come not to ask for the conviction of any person where the evidence does not warrant me in asking it, but if I shall be able to show to your satisfaction as I am satisfied that the prisoner did commit this murder, I shall ask a verdict of guilty. It is my duty as Att'y General for the State to warn not to come to a conclusion until you have within your knowledge every fact that will bring your conclusion. I think I will be able to show to you that on the 28th day of July last the prisoner and Robert Mackey met in Newark; that there, after having some conversation together, they mutually took a drink; that the pirsoner was in Newark professedly engaged in the lightening rod business; that R. E Mackey was there for the purpose of conveying s friend to the depot; that Mackey there went to the Deer Park Hotel, where he met the prisoner; they then left Newark together in Mackey's carriage, and started for Christiana; that the prisoner drove, and that they were seen at Christiana together, and that they left there together. They were next recognized in St. Georges; that they remained some time; that R. E Mackey was at that time under the influence of liquor; that the prisoner, whilst Mackey was there, partially persuaded him to leave the bar room; that as they came out of the bar, Mackey being intoxicated, the prisoner took Mackey up bodily and put him in the carriage; we shall show that Mackey, at that time, declined to be carried away; that subsequently the prisoner, by some influence, succeeded in getting Mackey in the carriage, leaving St Georges with the intention of going to Delaware City. We shall show you that instead of going in that direction they turned completely around, on the road to Odessa; we shall show further that between St. Georges and the bridge where this occurrence took place, the prisoner with Mackey in the carriage, were met by two men, the prisoner driving and Mackey leaning on him; that they were driving at the rate of a mile in four minutes. We shall show that when this party arrived at Drawyer's creek that the prisoner at the bar drove upon the eastern side of the bridge close to the railing; that the carriage stopped upon the centre of the bridge and that whilst standing there and while no one was in the carriage a splash was heard; that the prisoner was seen standing on the south wing of the bridge looking intently at the water; and that subsequently with the horse and carriage, and the coat of Mackey on his back, he was seen in Middletown within a reasonable time to drive from the bridge to that place. I must tell you gentlemen that this case is entirely on circumstances; we don't pretend that any person was cognizant of this crime, but we expect to show by a chain of circumstances, that the prisoner at the bar, and no other, is guilty; we will show that the prisoner had full control of the carriage, offering to expose the property of Mackey to sale, that the next day he was in possession of M.'s team: we will show that the harness of Mackey's horse was found in Wilmington, and that the prisoner, when arrested in Ohio, three hundred miles from here, had the identical coat of Mackey's on his back; we will show that the prisoner has attempted to account for the manner in which Mackey came to his death, and that the circumstances will not permit such a statement to be correct; we will show by two good witnesses that the prisoner has admitted being with Mackey on that bridge.

Now, gentlemen, I have said all that is necessary in this, my opening speech. I can only say that the case depends upon circumstances entirely, and not on positive proof; therefore you must banish every other thought and turn to this case alone. I will not take your time any further, gentlemen of the jury, but will proceed to call the witnesses and show you the facts.

THE TESTIMONY.

John E. Lewis, sworn—Lives in Newark; keeps Deer Park Hotel; knows Taylor slightly; knew Mackey was at my house between 1 and 2 o'clock on the morning of July 28th; bartender let him in; I first saw him at breakfast at 7 in the morning; it was Tuesday morning; settled with me for breakfast and horse at 8 a. m.; left after 9 a. m. same morning; Taylor was at my hotel in conversation with Mackey before he left; Taylor called me out and told me he was in the lightning rod business and one Mr. Cooper would be there inquiring for him; Mr. Mackey and him then talked; Mackey had his horse geared up and was in his carriage to go away; don't know whether Taylor called him out or not, but they walked into the bar room together; Taylor told me he was going to the culvert, to Sears, to put up a rod, and if Cooper called to tell him to wait, he would be back in two hours; I went then to the stable and saw Mackey drive away; the culvert is southeast from Newark; same direction as Mackey left; don't know where Taylor went; Mackey was sober; saw neither Taylor nor Mackey drink in my house; did not see Taylor leave my house on foot; Mackey had a York carriage well worn, and a brown mare with a star; don't know whether top was up or down when Mackey left; there were no curtains on it; I have never seen Mackey since, nor have I seen Taylor since, except in jail during the present term of Court.

Cross-examined—Knew these men slightly; I believe Mackey came at night; he left in the morning; he paid in full for breakfast, lodgings and horse; I was outside when Taylor came around the end of the house; never saw Mackey and he together before; both spoke when they met; names were exchanged and they went into the bar room; don't know how long they were in the bar room; I was not in the bar room; he called me to one side and told me his occupation and about Cooper; don't know if Taylor was in the carriage or not; heard nothing they said to each other.

Samuel E. Garrett sworn—Live in Newark, Del., and lived there in July; I have met Taylor; knew Mackey; he was a medium sized man 140 pounds; was lame in right leg; July 28th saw Mackey and Taylor at the Deer Park Hotel; it was Tuesday morning; saw them next at Washington Hotel one hour afterwards; 300 yards from Deer Park Hotel; Taylor was at Deer Park Hotel between 8 and 9 o'clock; before New London stage left; saw Taylor and Mackey also; went down street after I saw Taylor and Mackey; saw Mackey's team in front of the Washington House; saw Mackey on the porch; sat and talked with him; asked me to take a drink; did so; did not see Taylor then; Mackey and I went into the bar room; asked what I would like; I said "whisky straight;" he said he would take the same; did so; Mackey paid for it; turned around saw Taylor then at the other side of the bar writing; Mackey asked him up to drink and Taylor took a drink; J. J. Strickland was behind the bar; I cannot say what the drink was that Taylor took; Taylor was at the end of the bar facing the main street when I first saw him; Taylor was near the porch door by which we entered; saw nothing pass between Taylor and Mackey until they both got in Mackey's buggy to leave Newark; Taylor told Strickland he would be back in an hour or two; I saw them drive away; don't know who was driving; Mackey had on I think dark clothes; don't know what material; when they left they drove off in the direction of Ogletown; the mare they had was brown and the carriage was a buggy; have not seen Mackey since but have seen Taylor; did not see Dr. Columbus Henry that morning.

Cross-examined—Know Mackey better than Taylor; first saw him at Deer Park; was in Deer Park, saw Mackey first; was not doing anything; I addressed him; told me he brought a passenger to the train last night and rested over; it was in the reading room I spoke to him; did not see him drink; after some time saw Taylor; I was talking with a man when Taylor came up; Bradley addressed him, and I also; Mackey was not there; about 10.30 a. m., went to get the mail for Deer Park, saw Mackey's horse in front of Washington House; Mackey was on the porch; he told me he was selling phosphate; then he went in and took a drink; don't know when Taylor came in, but Mackey called him up to drink; Mackey said, "Joe, come take something;" Mackey handed out a five cent piece and two cents, and said, "Jackey, that will do, won't it?" Jackey said, "Guess so;" that was all he paid for Taylor's drink; then we went out on the porch; Taylor and Mackey then returned to the bar room; were there five or ten minutes; then they returned to the porch, Strickland with them, Taylor telling Strickland they would be back in a short time; they went off quietly in the direction of Christiana.

Dr. Columbus Henry, sworn—Live in Newark; did not know Mackey nor Taylor; I drove from Newark to Christiana, July 28th; left Newark Tuesday morning; after crossing Pennsylvania and Delaware Road, caught and passed a carriage; shortly after passing, heard some one drive up behind me whipping a horse; they passed me, when a hat blew off; they stopped; I passed; heard them coming, whipping horse; I drove up and kept out of their way; tried to pass me, but did not succeed; they tried to pass me again near Martin's farm; I did not let them pass; near Christiana they tried to pass again, but did not succeed; they stopped at the old hotel and I at the corner; last of them I saw; don't know who were in that carriage; the horse was dark brown; that the wagon was a York one; Phillip Marvel used to keep the hotel they stopped at; I was 25 minutes coming from Newark to Christiana; I saw one man leading the horse to the pump afterward; don't know who the man was; saw no other man near the carriage then; when I left Newark by my watch it was 5 or 20 minutes of 11, and when I got to Newark it was 20 or 25 minutes after, making 25 minutes either way; I was in Christiana one hour; I stopped on the other corner from Christiana Hotel.

John Strickland, sworn—Live in Chester county; last July was at Newark, at Washington House and tended bar; Robt. Strickland kept it; was there in the latter part of July; remember Mackey and Garrett coming in one day in July to get a drink; I think Taylor was in the room then; all three drank; Mackey paid for drinks; saw them leave I think; Mackey drove a York wagon with a brown mare up to the house; Taylor and Mackey got into the carriage together to go away; I was on the porch; Taylor asked me before they went away what time dinner would be ready; told him about 12.30; he said he thought he would be back and asked me take charge of his valise; then they drove towards Christine, Mackey driving; neither came back to dinner; never saw Mackey after; have not seen Taylor until to-day in Court; Taylor never called for the valise; it was July 28th, about 11 o'clock, a. m.; it was a pleasant day; Taylor was dressed in light pants; coat neither very light nor very dark; Mackey's suit was dark; I did not notice their clothes particularly; Taylor is the larger man of the two; Mackey is lame; I have known both for a number of years.

Cross-examined—I have known Taylor 15 years at least, Mackey more than 9 years; both men lived near my neighborhood; never saw the two men together before at Newark in my life; don't know whether they were friends or not; I never knew of any difficulty between them; July 28th Mackey and Garret came in and took a drink; it was in the morning; don't know exactly where Taylor was then; think he was at right hand by the bar; Taylor was there night before and spent the night at the Washington House; took his breakfast there that morning; it was about 9 a. m. when Mackey and Garret took a drink; Mackey asked Taylor to take a drink; Mackey told me he tried to get in the night before and could not get in; so he went to Deer Park; paid for the first drinks with a quarter; gave him a five cent nickel; then he handed me five cents back for Taylor's drinks; next drink was taken before they left, Taylor settled and said, "here's my valise, I will settle when I come back:" I thought he would be back for dinner; don't know Mrs. Sears; don't know how long the valise remained, but it was given to the deputy sheriff; recollect Taylor telling before he left that he had coaxed Mackey to take him as far as the culvert and perhaps as far as Wilmington, where he had a suit of clothes.

Re-examined—Three or four weeks after, the valise was given to the deputy sheriff.

Georgiana Bullen, sworn—Live in Christiana; lived there in July; saw Taylor there on July 20th, Tuesday, with another man at my house; saw them come up in a falling top buggy, Taylor driving I think; don't know the name of the other man; but he was a lame man and taller than Taylor; when Taylor got out he took the bucket to water the horse; the other man told him not to water the horse; Taylor said he was only going to wash out his mouth; the other man then got out and the horse was taken around the house; supposed Mackey went on the porch; Taylor came to the window and talked of old acqaintances; Taylor afterwards told me he was in the lightning rod business, and wanted board for three men and two horses; told him to see my husband; Mackey came partly into the bar room; we don't sell intoxicating liquors; Taylor told me if Mackey asked for liquor not to give him any; they were at my house about three-quarters of an hour: Taylor asked me the road to the Bear; I saw them leave; Mackey got in first himself; Taylor then got in; Taylor, I think, drove away toward Elkton; have never seen Mackey since, nor Taylor until now; there was a boy named Truitt around my house at that time; Truitt came in for a brush to clean Mackey's pants; Taylor was sober when they came; Mackey was under the influence of liquor.

Cross-examined—I have known Taylor, but Mackey was a stranger to me; have known Taylor since we were children; lost sight of him until last November; the horse was dark; Taylor told me if Mackey came in not to give him liquor; Taylor told me he was going to the Bear, from thence to St. Georges; I think Taylor had the reins; nothing was said about exchanging horses while I was near them.

Walter Truitt, sworn: When they drove up the horse was watered; I took the horse; Taylor got out and helped Mackey out; Taylor was driving when they came up, this was at Mr. Bullen's hotel; I got a broom and Mackey brushed himself; he had a blue coat and a hat turned up around; it was a top buggy, with top up; it was a red dish horse, and looked as if he had been driven hard, when they got in the buggy Taylor helped Mackey in; they went towards Smalley's mill, Taylor driving; when they came Mackey was drunk, but Taylor did not appear to be drunk.

John Elliott, sworn—Lived in Christiana on the 28th of July; keep a hotel; saw two men at Bullen's hotel that day; did not know either of them, would not know them now; it was on Tuesday; saw Walter Truitt there with a brush in his hand; they were there from a half to three-quarters of an hour; did not see them get in the carriage: it was a York wagon and dark bay horse; horse looked damp; one of the parties on the porch had on light clothes; don't know how the other was dressed; I don't know from which direction they had come but the horse's head was turned towards Newark

Abel Riggs sworn—Lived in St. Georges July last, tending bar for Iven D. Wallace; I have seen Taylor, and also Mackey about twice; saw them together at St. Georges July 28, last; they came in the afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock; Taylor engaged board for three men, three horses and three wagons in the lightning rod business; came in a York wagon, but did not see them till they came in the house; the horse was a dark bay; saw no curtains on the wagon; they stayed about an hour; Taylor wanted to trade horses with Mr. Wallace, and he declined; the horse driven then was the one he wanted to trade; he had the horse fed and told Mr. Wallace he had no money, but would be back with the company and would settle; Mr. Wallace told me to let him have what he wanted, that it would be all right; Mackey sat down and took a nap; after making contract for board, Taylor called several men in to take a drink; Taylor went out and came in and asked Mackey to come go; Mackey had just roused up; when Mackey first came he was sleepy; Taylor bought a bottle of whiskey and did not pay for it; said he was going to Delaware City to see his partner and get some money; and would pay when he came back; I saw them after that when I went out and saw Mackey getting out, saying he was not going to be put in that way; Mackey asked for a brush to clean his coat; I said I could brush it off with my hand and did so; I then went into the bar room; next saw them turn the carriage toward Odessa; Taylor with light clothes, Mackey dark ones; carriage top was down; don't know who was driving; Mackey was on the right, Taylor on the left; did not see them get to the canal; don't know the distance to the canal; did not notice the condition of the horse when they came to the hotel; when they got ready to go the horse's head was turned towards Kirkwood, contrary directly from Delaware City; saw the carriage when it was turned towards Odessa; do not know who was driving; first time I ever saw Taylor was on the 28th of July; Mackey was lame in one of his legs; Mackey took one drink; don't know how many Taylor took: the bottle I filled for Taylor was a pint bottle; Mackey left a short time after Taylor asked him to go; I heard Mackey make the remark that he, Taylor, told me to charge the bill to him; recognized the horse in Mr. Wallace's yard; Mr. W. brought the horse there and kept it until Mr. Mackey's brother claimed it; cannot say who is the taller of the two.

Philip Redden sworn—Live in St. Georges; was at Mr. Wallace's July 28th last; knew Mackey; saw him and another man there that day; would not know his companion if I would see him again; they came from towards Delaware City; Taylor was driving; heard nothing said of trading horses; Taylor was talking about the horse trotting; he said she could trot in 2.50; I waited to see them start; when they came out to go Taylor pushed Mackey up and threw him in; Mackey got out and told him he would let him know whose team that was; Mackey then went on the porch; Taylor persuaded him to come back and helped him into the carriage; the head was turned toward Kirkwood, contrary from the road to Delaware City; Taylor took the reins, turned quickly and went towards Odessa; Mackey was drunk, Taylor was not; the horse appeared tired; Taylor struck the horse with a whip, but did not try her speed; the horse was covered with signs of lashes; have not seen the man called Taylor since; I heard no exercise of ownership over the team but that made by Mackey when he got out.

Cross-examined--The hostler brought the horse out and turned towards Kirkwood.

Re-examined—There is another road from Christiana to St. Georges, which would make the distance two and-a-half miles further.

Wm. Flemming, sworn—Lived on July 28th near McDonough, employed by J. T. Shallcross; Shallcross' farm is between Odessa and St. Georges, one mile from McDonough; went to Delaware City with a load of apples; came by Boyd's Corner and Asbury; near there saw a carriage coming pretty fast; thought there was but one man in the carriage; as it approached saw two, one lying with his head in the other's lap; it was a dark bay mare; the wagon top was up; the back curtain was off or rolled; don't know which side I passed; the man driving had his hand around the other, and the whip in the other hand, whipping the horse; they were going about a mile in 4 minutes; don't know how either of the men were dressed; heard of Mackey's death four or five days after; I could not recognize those men.

Joseph Roberts, sworn.—I am a surveyor and a draughtsman: have recently made survey of Drawyer's Creek bridge, (Mr. Roberts explained the draft, showing the relative position of the creek, roads and bridge: the bridge's width is 14 feet, 3 inches, and is 24 feet long: the wing walls to bridge on north side are 19 feet 2 in., the other 19 feet 6 inches: the top of railing is 3 feet 5 inches from the floor of the bridge; the flooring projects 15 inches; the distance from the flooring to the water, when I took the measure, was 4 feet 2 inches: the water then lacked 18 inches of high water, as indicated by the abutments: at the northern extremity of the wing wall the ascent is gradual: there is a ditch on the outside of the causeway, between it and the marsh: the distance from the southern side of the bridge to the end of Nathan Farrell's house is 94 yards two feet: Nathan Farrell showed me the point where he said he stood when he saw the carriage, July 28th; was 144 yards from the south end of the bridge: I measured from where Mrs. Farrell said she was standing when she saw the carriage that day: it was 86 rods from the bridge: the distance from where the carriage was when Rebecca Farrell first saw it to where she was standing is 50 feet: where Mackey's body is said to have been found there is a bar: there is a channel between the bar and shore: when I went to survey the tide was running up: when I took the survey the tide was running up: I could see the bar: after I got done, $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours after, I could not see the bar; from the bridge to where the body was found is about 500 feet in a direct line.

Cross-examined—The spread of the marsh on this draft is not actual measurement; the road to the creek is 150 feet; when we got there there was enough water over the bar to float a skiff; when I first commenced to measure from the abutments to the end of the wing wall there was mud without water, but not dry mud: this was on the south side, on the north side there was some water: I am familiar with the geography of the lower part of the county: from the bridge to the mouth of the creek is $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles by the course of the Creek, from the mouth to the Delaware River is $68\frac{1}{2}$ miles, I think. (Here a county atlas was brought to show the tortuous character of Drawyer's Creek.) Rebecca Farrel could not see the carriage from where she stood, about 30 feet from the bridge.

Saturday.—Taylor was brought in the dock looking very cheerful, and after calling the Jury, the case of State vs. Joseph H. Taylor, proceeded as follows:

Chas H. Wright, sworn—Lived at St. Georges July 28: not personally acquainted with Taylor but have seen him: saw him at St. Georges last summer: I saw him there with another man: did not see him arrive: it was in the afternoon; Taylor was talking with me about some matters: then started to go and wanted the man that was with him to go: Taylor picked him up and put him in the carriage: Taylor unhitched the horse and the man got out: Taylor put him in again: Taylor had on steel colored clothes: they had a falling top buggy and bay mare: the horse's head was not headed towards Odessa: Taylor took the reins: the carriage was turned and drove towards Odessa: the carriage top was down: don't know whether there were curtains on or not: have never saw Mackey since that day; saw Taylor the next Thursday coming from the direction of Odessa: no one was with him: he had a different nag: he had an old buggy and light bay mare: I saw Taylor first about six or eight years ago: Taylor had on about the same clothes when he returned that Thursday.

Henry J. Rowe, sworn—Live in Crawford County, State of Ohio: I am the sheriff of that county since January last: I arrested the prisoner August 17th last at Bucyrus: I got a letter on Saturday evening: on Monday next I arrested him near the hub and spoke factory between 12 and 1 p. m.: I took him to jail: I arrested him on the receipt of a letter charging him with murder: (the letter was here produced,) when I arrested him he had on light pants and dark coat: he was in our jail for a week: Sheriff Armstrong and Jas Hamlin were with me: Sheriff Armstrong produced a requisition from the Governor of Delaware: Taylor had on the coat described in the letter and I took it from him: it matched with a piece of goods enclosed in the letter: I told him he had the man's coat on and he said it might be the same goods: I went up town and met McBride, a cousin of his, and was asked if I noticed any letters in the back of the coat, I went back and noticed "R. M." where the name had been stitched in and thread picked out; (the coat was here produced:) the coat has not been in my possession since; Hamlin had charge of it: after finding the letters in the coat I went in and asked Taylor what R M. meant: he said to the best of my knowledge, Rogers and Butchers manufacture: that was all that was said: this was the same day I arrested him: I did not know the name of the murdered man at that time: had a conversation couple of days after: I had got a paper stating the "Mackey murder" and Taylor told me that he and Mackey were riding along and had been on a big drunk, and coming to a bridge and going across Mackey was driving and licking the horse: they had been driving hard all the round: when they crossed the bridge Mackey pulled the horse to one side: Taylor took the reins: stopped the horse and got off to hold the horse and straighten himself, and told Mackey to get off lift the hind part of the buggy around: Mackey got off and instead of doing this sat down on the wing of the bridge: Taylor said he then heard a splash in the water and went back but could not see him: the horse started and he (Taylor) went and caught the horse and tied him to a tree: went back to look for him but could not find him: Mackey was out of sight: he then got in and drove off: I (Rowe) then told him you had better have raised an alarm and got the man out: he (Taylor) said he knew he did wrong in not doing so: that is all. Taylor asked me if I intended to take back the coat: I said if they wish it: I gave the coat to Hammil and got it from him this morning.

Cross-examined—The letter was the sole reason why I arrested him; it was on toward daylight: he walked right up to me and did not make any attempt to escape. I arrested him and Sheriff Armstrong came on the Saturday night after: I got $150 reward handed me by Mackey's father: I am to get 300 from the State: when I took this blue coat from Taylor, McBride brought him a light coat: I think he wore this coat when he came on here.

Nathan Farrell, sworn—Lived at Drawyer's bridge on the 28th day of July: was in the corn field: I saw a carriage about 4 p. m., two men were in the carriage: they drove up to the eastern side of the bridge, saw a man get out dressed in light clothes: in a little while I heard a splash: looked up and saw a man standing on the south wing wall looking into the water: had a full view of the man: I looked again and the carriage and man were gone: the carriage stopped in the centre of the bridge: I might recognize the man by his build but not by his features: I think he is lighter featured than Mr. Bayard.

Cross-examined—I stood about the same place that Mr. Roberts had on the draft: I was down by the bridge and saw the carriage tracks: I looked up a minute after I heard the splash: I thought the man was drowning a dog, the top of the carriage was up: heard no other sound but a splash: my sight is good.

Rebecca Farrell, sworn—I am the wife of Nathan Farrell and live by Drawyer's Creek: I remember seeing the carriage: there were two men in the carriage, one driving the other lying in his lap: the top of the carriage was up: the man driving had on a dark coat: the man lying down was in his shirt sleeves: the horse was a dark bay and was walking: the carriage came by about 4 or 5 p m.: the man driving looked back at me: my eyes are good.

Lewis P. McDowell, sworn—Lived at Middletown last July: know Mackey and Taylor: saw Taylor July 29th about 4 p. m., at Middletown, in front of the stables: he was standing in a carriage, did not see him leave: I saw him talking but to whom I do not know: the carriage was a buggy with a top and horse was gray: don't know that I have seen the horse before or after: don't know how Taylor was dressed: Taylor was in my sight from 5 to 10 minutes.

Joseph L. Parsons, sworn—I live at Middletown and tend bar at a hotel there: in the middle of July, Taylor came there with a man putting up lightning rods: he came in a buggy with a brown mare: he stayed about an hour: he asked for a drink and I told him I thought he did not need any.

He had on a dark blue coat, think that pants were lighter than the coat. He gave me another coat and I hung it up, he got it again and said he was going to Massey's X Roads. He traded that day his horse, first with Mr. Stanbaugh; he got a mouse colored young horse, I loaned $25.00 to Mr. Stanbaugh which he gave Taylor, I saw Mr. Warren have that horse afterwards. Taylor was dressed on Wednesday as he was on Tuesday. The last I saw of Taylor he started out to race with a running horse of Mr. Stanbaugh, I saw a gentleman pay him $15.00 boot for a trade, the man who traded was a driver of a spice wagon.

Thos. H. P. Murphey, sworn:—Lived at Middletown last July, have known Taylor 4 or 5 years, knew Mackey also; he was a slender man, lame in his right leg, he was about as tall as Mr. Whitely. I met Taylor near Warwick, the day before trading, he was going towards Warwick in a top buggy with a little brown horse, I had two or three minutes conversation with him, he told me he was going to Warwick and would probably be in Middletown next day; I saw him in Middletown, afterwards, he was with a man named Skilley, and wanted to trade a horse, I think it was a larger horse than he had before. He said he had traded with Stanbaugh; saw him again at night and he wanted to trade me again.

John B Roberts, sworn—Lived in Middletown, in July last, I saw Taylor then on the 29th July last in front of my store, was talking to him about trading carriages, he said he had been looking at a no-top buggy of mine and said he was in the lightning rod business, and my wagon would suit him to carry small parcels; I traded with him, Mr Murray was with him, Mrs. Murray had given me a due bill and Murray said if I would give Taylor the due bill he would pay him, I did so and gave him seven dollars.

Samuel Warren, sworn—Saw Taylor in Middletown last July, he was wanting to trade, I said I would trade him, I went out to my partner's farm and traded his brown horse for a gray, I gave him $25 to boot.

Thomas Murray, sworn—Lived in Middletown last July, saw a man they called Taylor there, he wanted to trade a horse, told me he got the horse from Mr. Warren in a trade; he had a buggy which he had traded with Mr. Roberts in my presence.

Asbury Pennington, sworn—Lived at Middletown last July, don't know Taylor, but have seen him. First saw him at the Head of Sassafras, on Tuesday of the last of July, Taylor had a York wagon to trade, he offered to trade the horse with Skilley, said he had been at Middletown. We took a drink or two; he did not appear to have any money, saw him next day at Middletown with another horse.

James C Townsend, sworn—Lived at Townsend on July 28 last; saw Taylor at Middletown on that day. He came to my house that night; I keep a hotel; he had a horse and wagon, it was an open buggy; he left next morning, but returned at 11 p. m.; after taking several drinks the night before going away, he went to Odessa; don't know Mackey; Taylor did not pass under any other name at my house; he registered himself as Joseph H. Taylor, Lewisville, Pa.

Jas. L. Curry, sworn—Lived in Odessa 28th of July last; saw Taylor on the 30th there; Taylor had on a blue coat and light pants when he came to the hotel. He wanted to know "who in the hell had a horse to trade?" I referred him to a man in the room; he did trade with George Gilch. The coat Taylor has on now looks like the same coat he wore then; don't think I saw him drive away. I saw $5 paid over in the trade with Gilch.

John B. Roberts, recalled—When I saw the carriage first, Taylor and his companion had their feet on the dashboard, which was worn very much; that was the only defective part of the carriage; I delivered the carriage to Dr. Stroud on his oath, he claiming it.

George Gilch, sworn—Lived at Odessa July 30, last; have met Taylor; he passed my house July 30, in a little no-top buggy and a black horse; I gave him a bay horse not in a very good condition, and $5 to boot. This was in the bar room; it was 1 o'clock when we made the bargain, and about 2 when we changed horses.

John McVeigh, sworn—I live in Wilmington; was at Odessa the last of July; do not know Taylor, but recognized prisoner as the man I saw in the bar room there. Taylor spoke of trading horses, but I did not see a trade; was not present at the inquest on the body of Mackey, but was at the interment the following Saturday. The body had on dark pants, white shirt, and fine knit undershirt, but no coat; when I first saw the body it was on the edge of the creek in a box.

Lovering Long, sworn—(The testimony of this witness was materially unimportant.)

Caleb Miller sworn—Lived in Wilmington, July 30 last; keep the White Horse Hotel; a man came to my house on the evening on the 30th of July; don't know who he was; horse, carriage and harness were left there that night

F. B. Stephens, sworn—I was Deputy Coroner of this county, 30th of July; next day I held an inquest over the body.

He was found in the western side of the creek; I made a line fast to the body and drew him to the shore. The man was about 5 feet 9 inches high; weighed about 150 pounds; dark pants, white shirt and wore undershirt; blue vest, no hat, buttoned gaiters and stockings; his body was in the lower side of the creek, the head down stream; I took the body out; it was after sundown and after bringing the body to the shore, went to Odessa and summoned a jury: took the body out on the bank and held an inquest: I got a box from the undertaker and put the body in it: left it until next morning when I brought Dr. Ashcraft to examine the head as some of the jury thought there were evidences of violence; I searched the body and found a tobacco-box, key and knife: (all these articles were produced) I did not take any clothing off at that time: I had the body buried Saturday, Aug. 1, in the Potter's field: saw the body since, on August 8th: I had the body disinterred and I held another inquest on that day: it was the same body I had formerly buried; there was clothing taken from it: there is a piece of the pantaloons, and part of the shirt: at the second inquest James Mackey claimed it as his brother's body.

(The gaiters, part of the pants and vest were produced and offered in evidence)

Cross-examined:—It was about 7 P. M., when I first saw the body: Dr. Ashcraft found neither the skull nor scalp injured: at the disinterment the Doctor made a regular post mortem examination: the next examination showed that the body was in a state of decomposition, the face swollen and turned dark, but not fallen in.

George Holman sworn:—I followed the Deputy Coroner to Drawyer's Creek: I saw the body: I was one of the jury: the body was taken out of the water and put into a boat and examined: then it was put in a box, nailed up and we all went home: I did not see it again until August 8th: I recognized it by the clothes and the leg being bent: I am positive it was the same body I had seen before.

Dr. Ashcraft sworn:—Live at Odessa: was summoned to attend an inquest at Drawyer's creek, July last: made an examination of the body: examined the head particularly: could not find any wound on the head: the skin was swollen and discolored; I saw no marks of violence: I made another examination August 8th, and examined the scalp and found the skull uninjured: Dr. Stroud was with me, we did not examine the lungs or stomach: there was a dislocation in one of the wrists: I found one of the joints stiff

Cross examined—I did not observe the wrist on the first examination: dislocation of the wrist might occur to a living or dead body.

Dr. P. V. B Stroud, sworn—Live at Parksburg, Pa.: knew Taylor and Mackey, saw Mackey last alive July 27th: the next time I saw him was on August 8th, dead: I recognized him from his general appearance, clothes, teeth and lame leg. He had just two incision teeth in his upper jaw, which is a rare occurrence. He had a stiffness in the left knee, I recognized his tobacco box: saw him go away on the evening of July 27th, driving a sorrel horse: next saw the carriage August 7th, at Mr. Roberts, in Middletown, recognized it, and took it away next day, identified the harness at Miller's hotel in Wilmington.

Thomas Goode, sworn—Live in Parksburg, Pa., R. A. Mackey was my brother-in-law. He left my place at 6 P. M, July 27th He had a sorrel horse and second hand buggy: the latter was my property. Got it two weeks after from Dr. Stroud. I last saw my brother-in-law alive on the 27th of July: he came to my house and changed his horse for mine saying his his horse was tired.

Charles Floyd sworn—Lived at Chatham for the two past years, I am a tailor, within the last year I made a diagonal Chesterfield coat for Mackey: that was between the 11th and 18th of July 1873, I have never seen that coat since, I put his two initials "R." and "M." inside of the coat with white cotton on top and black on the bottom: I put them in at my own option, I would know the coat. (The coat was produced that was taken from Taylor) that is positively the coat and these are the initials I put in.

James Hammil, sworn—Reside in Lewisville Chester county, Pa.: lived there 28th of July: knew R. A. Mackey, and also knew Taylor: went to Ohio with Sheriff Armstrong for the purpose of getting Taylor. Before going, I got a requisition from the Governor of Delaware: found Taylor there in jail: got there on Saturday, and on Monday following, Sheriffs Armstrong and Rowe, Taylor and myself, came on. I had a conversation with Taylor in jail, and allusion was made to Mackey's death. I asked him why he was there. He said he had been arrested on a false charge. He said he met Mackey at Newark and rode with him to Christiana, thence to St. Georges: he said they were driving along and ran into a tree and threw him out. He got out to lift the carriage around, and led the mare across the bridge and came back but did not see Mackey: I asked him why he did not give the alarm; he said there is where he did wrong. Then he said he got into the wagon and drove through Odessa to Middletown: he did not stop in Odessa: I asked him what he did with the team he last had, and he said he had left it at Mr. Miller's, in Wilmington.

It being 6.15 o'clock, Court adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

MONDAY.—James Hammil, continued—Taylor said when he was coming to the bridge he ran against a tree throwing Mackey out upon the ground: he (Taylor) got out, lifted the cariage around and led the mare over the bridge and took a drink out of his bottle: came back and could not see him: got in the wagon and drove on to Middletown: I asked why he did not give the alarm.

He said there he had done wrong: asked him how he came to get Mackey's coat: he said that they had taken their coats off prior to coming to the bridge. I think this is all the conversation we had: when I went into the jail I shook hands with him; he said he was glad I came out; he told me he had been arrested on suspicion: nothing was said about the affair after we got to Reliance coming East: Sheriff Armstrong gave me the coat: it was a dark blue bias fitted coat: I had it in my possession about two days: I left it at Thomas Mackey's: I think I could tell the coat by its general appearances. (Coat shown and identified). I first saw it at the jail in Ohio: Sheriff Rowe showed it to me: it was the same one I had in my possession: I locked it up in a closet at Mr. Mackey's taking, the key away with me.

I then gave the key to my niece to give to the Sheriff, I know Mackey well and often saw him, I know Elisha H. Mackey he is a twin brother of R. A. Mackey; I have seen the mare spoken of, she is a good mare to work or drive: inclined to be lazy. Never saw her on the course. Have known Taylor several years; don't think I ever saw him drive the mare, five years ago I offered $200 cash for her, July 28th would have given the same.

Cross-examined—Had conversation with Taylor on other subjects besides what I have said, I made no written note of what was said. Both Sheriffs were with me: coming on Sheriff Rowe and the prisoner were in one seat and I behind: don't know where Armstrong was exactly, what I have told is what Taylor told me in his language: I was sent from Kimbleville to get a dispatch from the West, I got it: while I was there other dispatches came calling for a requisition, I took it upon myself to get a requisition, there were no expenses to be paid for my journey to Newark from Kimbleville, paid my own expenses to Milton and back from Newark, Sheriff Armstrong paid my expenses to Ohio and back; I said I would not go unless he did so.

Mr. Bayard then addressed the jury at length in his opening for the defence.

MR. BAYARD'S ADDRESS TO THE JURY.

Gentlemen of the Jury:—The case for the prosecution, according to the statement of the Attorney General, has been closed. It is my duty, representing the prisoner whom you have in charge, to open to you the additional testimony of the unhappy event of the 25th of July. It is upon the whole of the facts that we confidently rely for acquital. Truth is universal and falsehood exceptional We shall prove that it is not true that Taylor did take this man, Mackey, and throw him into this creek. Mr. Bayard then addressed the Court at some length, asking for judgment on the corpus delicti without evidence. Turning to the jury, Mr. Bayard continued: You have heard what I have said to the Court. This is not all The prisoner and Mackey were both strangers to us, accidentally being within the jurisdiction of the Court.

Mr. Bayard then proceeded to sketch the career of Taylor, claiming the defense would show that he was in the lightning-rod business previous to the Drawyer's Bridge occurrence, and that his employer came to Newark looking for him during the latter part of the month of July, and expecting to hear of him; that the prisoner was sought by Mackey and not that he sought Mackey; that Mackey, and not he, proposed to drink; that the ride was unpremeditated and at Mackey's invitation; that Taylor had with him the clothes he has now on and all speculations as to light clothes will fade away in the presence of the man here to day dressed as he was when he got into the wagon. We will prove they were friends with no unsettled accounts, no debts due, no quarrels, no enmities, in short we will prove the entire absence of all those materials from which a jury should draw conviction from circumstantial evidence. We shall show you that Taylor had rheumatism which afflicted him at the time, and suffering from which he went to Bucyrus. The absence of other indicia of guilt—staying in the neighborhood, making appointments and keeping them—we will show you the visit to Ohio was premediated and produce letters from his cousin long before he made the visit; that he arrived there pursuant to arrangement to get employment: he got there in the same clothes; he was arrested unlawfully; there was no right to touch him and he made no effort to escape. McBride told Taylor they were going to arrest him, but he deliberately went to the Sheriff and allowed himself to be arrested. I am instructed to say that though ex-Sheriff Armstrong was present with Hamill and the prisoner during all the time, he heard nothing of the conversation; we will show there was a crumbling of the wing walls and buttresses of that bridge; that they have since been repaired and replastered and the cap stones newly cemented; we will show you the natural fact that on July 28th last, there was high tide in Philadelphia at 12.55 a. m., and at mid-day at 19 minutes past 1 o'clock; we shall show you there is between the mouth of Appoquinimink creek three hours' difference; that the tide rises at twenty miles distance for each hour and in creeks twelve miles; that the mouth of Appoquinimink creek is 58 miles from Philadelphia: that it is 12 miles further to Drawyer's Creek, that it was high water there two hours earlier than in Philadelphia, namely, at 11.20; we will show the ebb to be seven hours running out; that about the time Mackey was alleged to have been thrown into the creek there was a weed bank under that wing wall, and still two hours left for the tide to ebb; and then ask how this man's body, contrary to the natural way in which the tide would have borne it, is found carried above the bridge.

TESTIMONY FOR THE DEFENSE.

Amos G. Cooper, sworn—Live at Rising Sun, Md.: I am in the lightning rod business: Taylor was in my empcly in July: during the latter part of July I was at home: before I started out again I heard of the Mackey business: I stopped at the Deer Park hotel, in the latter part of July, and asked if a lightning rod man had been there: the man I was asking for was Taylor: Taylor wore a grayish coat and vest: I don't know what kind of pants: those are the same or similar that the man has on: shortly after he came with me I suggested to him to get a pair of overalls: I don't think he got them: I did not know Mackey.

Cross-examined—Taylor was with me about eight days. On Monday morning he entered upon his duties. Taylor went as far as Elkton in my buggy: it was an hours's drive; I left him in Elkton to get on my wagon: I left Taylor at the cross roads corner, my wagon standing there: this was on Tuesday: this was all in the same week: on Sunday I met him at the Brick Meeting House, four miles east of Rising Sun: next saw him in jail last Thursday or Friday: knew Taylor slightly before I hired him: had met him 2½ years prior. When I left Taylor at Elkton told him I was going to Rising Sun: told him to go to Lewisville, and if he got a job to put it up, and then come to Rising Sun and stay over Sunday. When I left on Saturday morning I expected to see him that night with the wagon: I was to leave word at Kimbleville: was the reason I asked for him at Deer Park Hotel, Newark.

Eli H. Logan, sworn—I reside one-half mile from Landenberg: known Taylor 12 years: knew Mackey 7 or 8 years: don't know what relations existed between Taylor and Mackey: I presume they were friends, for I have no cause to think otherwise.

Lukens Russell, sworn—Lived in Upper Oxford township, Pa., all my life: known Taylor ten years: knew Mackey by sight: lived four miles from Mackey, and eight from Taylor: I think they were friendly: when I saw them together, they were, apparently, in friendly intercourse.

Henry Gregg, sworn—Lived in Mill Creek hundred, in this county: the relations between Taylor and Mackey were friendly for anything I knew.

Cross-examined—Don't know that I ever saw them together.

Chalkley Phillips, sworn—Lived at Toughkennamon: am butcher there and knew Mackey personally: the personal relations of Taylor and Mackey were always friendly; they continued as far as I know, until Mackey's death: known Taylor 14 years: Mackey and I were boys together; both of these men were disposed to drink.

Cross-examined—Last saw them at Avondale, four weeks before this occurrence; they were drinking soda water together; I met them together many a time at public houses; I have seen them drink many times; saw them drink at my place and at John Phillips' two years ago; I have seen them drink whisky.

Washington Bradley, sworn—Live in Delaware City; formerly at Newark; was in Newark July 28th last; knew both Taylor and Mackey well; I saw them at Deer Park Hotel, there spoke to Mackey, saw Taylor and spoke to him; Taylor and Mackey spoke together: Mackey asked Taylor if he would ride down town; Taylor said he wanted to go to Armstrong's; they went down the street together; Taylor had on dark clothes; the clothes he now has on are alike in color; I have known Taylor 8 or 10 years; Mackey for 8 years; they were always friends as far as I know; I know Nathan Farrell and the appearance of his house; I know those trees; a man standing where Farrell stood could not see the top of a carriage on the causway with the leaves on the trees; the planking of the bridge has been renewed, the masonry repaired; the abutments had given away; I have seen the creek at low and high tide; I have seen a mud bank there, but it was shallowly covered.

Cross-examined—I was not engaged at the repairing but passed it every day; saw them at work; cannot say that all four wings were repaired.

Burgan W. Godfrey, sworn—Live in Wilmington; navigated the Delaware river for 30 years; am familiar with the tides; 20 miles an hour is the difference of the tides between Appoquinimink creek and Philadelphia; it is fifty eight miles from this creek to Philadelphia; we allow an hour's difference in 12 miles to the tide in the creeks; in the 12 hours there are a 7 ebb and 5 flood at a given point.

Joseph Taylor, sworn—I am Joseph H. Taylor's father: he will be 28 in April: I live at Lewisville: he lived with us until he went into the lightning-rod business: he had the rheumatism so badly he had to go on a crutch and cane: he left home last May; this disease has continued until now: his right knee has been swollen and blistered: I knew Mackey fourteen years: he and my son were on good terms: often saw them together: know my son's clothes: recollect he took his clothes away the Thursday before he went into the lightning-rod business: [shown a coat] this is my son's coat: he took two dark suits away with him: he has been at my house twice since: no other clothes have been sent him.

Cross-examined—He got the coat at Oxford early in the spring; have seen Mackey and Taylor drink together, about two years ago: don't know whether he had his clothes in a bundle or valise.

John L. Taylor, sworn—Live at Oxford: am no relation to prisoner: knew Mackey 8 or 10 years: knew Taylor 10 or 12 years: Mackey lived 7 miles from me, and Taylor about 8 miles: they were always friendly: saw them at Oxford together 8 or 10 days previous to the Mackey trouble: they were in a friendly conversation: I have seen them frequently together.

George J. Mackey, sworn—Live at Chester county, Pa.; no relation to Robert Mackey: knew Mackey and Taylor 8 years: live about 7 miles from Mackey's father: the relations between these two men seemed always friendly.

John Buchanan, sworn—Live near Lewisville, where Taylor resided, and have known him 12 years: knew Mackey when I saw him: the relations between Taylor and Mackey were good as far as I know.

Thomas B. Ewing, affirmed—Live at Lewisville: knew Taylor since he was a boy: know Mackey: the relations between these two were good: I never heard of them quarrelling.

John R. McBride, sworn—Live at Bucyrus, Ohio, and am first cousin to Taylor: have lived at Bucyrus 2 years: I am an engineer: in the early part of the summer of 1874 I had a correspondence with Taylor: have these letters: I got them from Taylor in prison: I wrote two of the letters: my wife wrote the other, at my request: I mailed the letters: (Mr. Bayard here read the letters and offered them in evidence:) I saw Taylor, for the first time after writing, on August 1st: that was at Bucyrus: he came to the engine room and remained with me until dinner time, when he went home with me: he was at my house 2 weeks and 2 days before he was arrested: he did nothing but one day, when he worked with me in the shop: I had work arranged for him when he was arrested: he was to get work painting a warehouse if terms could be agreed on: the first I knew of the attempt at arrest was 11 o'clock on the day of the arrest: the sheriff and a crowd came to my house, surrounded and searched it: Taylor was out walking at that time in the direction of the Union School House about five squares from my house: I saw him coming in on the opposite side from where the crowd was: I motioned my hand and he came across the fence directly towards me: I said to him, "Joe, they are after you to arrest you. I hear there is a large reward offered for you. What are you coming here for?" He said, "I have done nothing that I am afraid of: I told him they were bound to arrest him: he told me if there was any arresting to be done to take him to the Sheriff: I took him to the Sheriff, who said to bring him, as he was the man he had been hunting all the morning: the Sheriff took him to jail: Taylor had every chance to escape, but did not attempt to do so: I visited him with my wife in the jail: my wife asked him where his coat was: he said the Sheriff had taken it: he now has on the coat I took him out of his valise: I was with him when Hammill came into the jail: Hamill saw my wife and I and turned around and went out, calling the Sheriff out: I saw no interview between Hamill and Taylor: when Taylor came to Bucyrus he was slightly lame with the rheumatism: on the Saturday and Sunday before his arrest he was in company with some young men to whom I had introduced him: Taylor wore a dark, snuff-colored hat: one of the men was a reporter of the Crawford County Forum and that paper published a statement which Taylor made openly to the reporter in the presence of the Sheriff and myself: the Sheriff did not state to Taylor why he was arrested: he was arrested Aug. 17th and taken away on Monday: the interview the Sheriff, reporter and I had with Taylor lasted about fifteen minutes: when I left him on that occasion I left no one with him: the Sheriff was in the jail yard when I went out of the jail: this yard is inclosed by a common iron fence about five feet high: the population of Bucyrus is 15,000.

Jos. Taylor was recalled and identified the hat which McBride identified as his son's hat.

R. Lewis Armstrong, sworn—I was the Sheriff of New Castle county the last 2 years, and just went out of office: I visited Ohio to bring Taylor home: Mr. Hamill first applied to me, saying he had a requisition: he wanted me to go and I was reluctant then, as I had other pressing business: but I went; I had a man picked out to go with me, but Hamill seemed anxious to go and get his expenses paid; I paid his expenses; I first saw Taylor at the jail on Sunday morning; I did not know him previously; I started away with him on Monday morning at 3 o'clock; I sat near him with Mr. Hamill for some time; for the first 100 miles we were in a sleeping car; we slept about three hours; I was in the bunk with Taylor; during the whole journey he made no statement to me as I checked him; I heard him make no statement to Hamill; I told Herdman, the jailor, that no one was to be allowed to see Taylor, as I would allow no profane language used towards any prisoner.

The defence here closed.

Deputy Attorney-General Hodgson then began the opening argument for the State, reviewing the evidence at considerable length. He was followed by Hons. Wm. G. Whiteley and T. F. Bayard for the defence, Attorney-General Pennington closing for the State, at 8.30 P. M. The court then adjourned until the next morning, when Judge Wootten delivered the charge to the jury and they retired to their room for consultation at 10.32 A. M., (Wednesday.)

Yesterday evening, they had not agreed upon a verdict.

Local and State Affairs.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving day was appropriately observed in Middletown. All the stores were closed—as near as country stores can close at such times—and Divine Service was celebrated in the churches. A Union service, as is the custom, was held by the Methodists and Presbyterians at the church of the latter congregation. Addresses were made by Dr. Matlack, of the M. E. Church, and Dr. Patton, of the Presbyterian Church. Both addresses were very interesting and well adapted to the occasion.

In the evening Good Samaritan Lodge, I. O. O. F. gave a delightful entertainment in their hall, consisting of addresses and music, both vocal and instrumental. John B. Roberts, Esq., delivered an interesting address on the rise and progress of Odd Fellowship in which he gave much valuable information about the workings of the Order. Rev. Mr. Butler, also, made a fine, though short, speech. Price's String Band, with their incomparable music on the violin and base viol, and the M. E. Church choir, added greatly to the interest and pleasure of the occasion.

At half-past ten the company were invited to the large room adjoining the hall, where a splendid collation had been spread to which the most ample justice was done. It has seldom been our pleasure to participate in an affair of this kind, where there was as much real enjoyment as was manifested on this occasion. May the members of Good Samaritan Lodge of Odd Fellows, of Middletown, live forever, and we be present at all their Thanksgiving suppers is our grateful wish.

Minor Topics.

Swiss Bell Ringers.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 28th, Leavitt's Swiss Bell Ringers and Continental Vocalists, will give one of their grand musical entertainments in the Town Hall. This is a new company of Mr. Leavitt's to this section, being a different one from the last here. The old original Continental Vocalists are engaged, and in conjunction with the Bell Ringers, they give an excellent entertainment. See small bills for particulars.

A Chapter of Accidents.

On Thursday of last week, Mrs. O'Neil wife of John O'Neil, one of the supervisors on the P., W. & B. R. R., living near Oakington, met with an accident which resulted in her death the next morning. She left her home and started on an errand to Havre de Grace, but a short distance away, and was walking on the railroad track, when she came across a pile of old ties which had been set on fire by a spark from a passing locomotive. She stopped to extinguish the flames and in doing so her clothing caught fire and before assistance could reach her she was so badly burned that she died early next morning.—Every Evening.

A boy, named S. Crowding, employed at Springer, Morley & Gause's Sash Factory, in Wilmington, met with a singular accident last Saturday. He was working near a steam augur, used for boring out hubs, when he was caught by the machinery and all his clothing, a vest and two shirts, stripped from his back. With the exception of some slight injuries on the shoulder the boy was uninjured.

A man, named Perry Boyer, was severely burned, on Tuesday, at the Lobdell Car Wheel works, by a mass of melted iron that accidentally fell upon him.

Rain, Hail and Wind

Monday was a stormy day. The wind was from the South in the morning but shifted to the West and blew "big guns" pretty much all day. Rain fell in torrents and was accompanied, at one time in the morning, by a sharp dash of hail, many of the stones being of a pretty good size.

DIED.

On Saturday, 21st inst. in Catonsville, Md., Oliver T. Clift, son of Dr. Clift, of Sassafras, Md., aged 16 years.

A Substitute for Quinine.

For years, quinine was regarded as the only specific for malarious diseases, and immense quantities of the drug were annually consumed throughout our western country, more particularly along the river bottoms and adjoining low lands.

With the fall months malaria, in all its varied forms, stalks like an epidemic through the land, and whole districts are prostrated with chills and fever, the entire population shaking with ague. Heretofore, quinine was regularly resorted to; but, while it frequently failed to effect a cure, it invariably deranged the stomach, producing nausea, vertigo and fugitive pains in the head to such an extent that months elapsed ere the system recovered from its effects. These objections to its use were so marked, that the introduction of Mishler's Herb Bitters was hailed as a triumph in medicine. Infinitely more certain in its beneficial effects than quinine, it possessed none of the demerits of that drug. Instead of nauseating, it tones and invigorates the stomach, and while speedily expelling the noxious humors, increases the appetite and facilitates digestion thus rendering the system stronger, and better fitted to resist the attacks of disease. In fact, a judicious use of Mishler's Herb Bitters at this season of the year, will prevent the recurrence of this disease, even in those who have never passed an autumn without it. An experience of twenty years proves it to be the greatest ANTI-PERIODIC known to medical science.

There are, perhaps, no diseases so subject to climatic changes as affections of the Kidneys. Hundreds of our farmers, mechanics, and laboring men, strong and hardy in all other respects, suffer continual inconvenience, and occasionally excruciating pains in the back and across the loins; experience a frequent desire to pass water, pain during its passage, and frequent stoppages in its flow. These are manifestations resulting from some strain or heavy lift (perhaps years ago), and aggravated by every change in the weather. Every slight cold flies direct to this one weak spot, and unless promptly attended to the disease becomes chronic, and the once strong man a miserable wreck. Mishler's Herb Bitters is the only certain remedy for this class of diseases. It has a peculiar tendency to the kidneys, stimulates them to healthy action, and removing the cause, prevents the formation of brick-dust deposits, which, if permitted to continue, will by cohesion form gravel stone, necessitating a painful operation for its removal. Many of the ingredients entering into its composition, are universally recognized as specifics for all complaints of the urinary organs. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all disorders of the Bowels, and affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally certain and efficacious; while, as a remedy for the complaints peculiar to the female sex, it has no equal. LADIES, old and young, married and single, in every condition of life, will find this GREAT FEMALE REMEDY prompt, safe, certain and reliable. The pale, sallow complexion is replaced by a blooming, healthful countenance, and its occasional use enables Nature to perform her functions REGULARLY AND WITHOUT INCONVENIENCE. Sold only in bottles by all Druggists and general dealers.

CORNS, BUNIONS.

CORNS.—How they sting, throb, ache, smart and burn, upon our feet. In vain we beg, we threaten we curse, we flourish the sharpest knives above their heads, we burn, we cut, hack, hew and fell, and still the pesky corns remain a thing of misery. Useless are entreaties, tears, curses, groans; nothing can remove our corns but Briggs' Alleviator and Curative, a sure cure for Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, and all ailments of the feet.

Piles! Piles! PILES, INTERNAL, EXTERNAL, BLEEDING OR ITCHING—The intense suffering occasioned by the disease, in its various forms, is known only to those who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted with it. The sleepless nights, the uncomfortable days, the haggard looks of the sufferer bear witness of the intensity of the pain experienced when troubled with this prevailing disease. The success of Briggs' Pile Remedy as a positive cure is unequaled in the annals of medicine. Relief is immediate when used as directed. The immense demand for this great remedy is unparalleled. Thousands are using it with the most satisfactory results.

Headache. Headache, Neuralgia and Nervous Diseases. The wonderful effect of Dr. J. Briggs' Alleviator, for the speedy cure of the above mentioned very prevalent and painful disease, is known to many thousands who have used it with unqualified success. In every case of the above enumerated complaints, it has never failed to give immediate relief.

Consumption. This fatal and dreaded disease can, and has been cured. Dr. J. B. Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer is a pleasant, agreeable and sure remedy for Coughs, Whooping Cough, Croup, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Sore Throat, Asthma, Consumption, and all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest.

CORNS Are the most plentiful kind of grain in the market. Every one has a supply, from the little three-year old child to the aged grandsire verging on to a hundred; stylish, handsome young ladies who daily promenade fashionable resorts; middle-aged matrons; old maids, dressed up to appear young and gay; dandies, with their patent leathers, kid gloves and inevitable walking stick; the clergyman, merchant, lawyer, clerk, artisan and mechanic, of all ages and stations, haves full supply of corns, bunions, bad nails and other botherations of the feet, all of which are banished and cured by the use of Briggs' Corn and Bunion remedies, Alleviator and Curative.

BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN.

There is no case of Dyspepsia that Green's AUGUST FLOWER will not cure. Go to Chamberlaine, druggist, Middletown, Del.; H. P. Baker, Odessa, and E. W. Jester, St. Georges, and inquire about it. If you suffer from Costiveness, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, or derangement of the system, try it. Two or three doses will relieve you.

AGUE CONQUEROR is the only remedy in the United States that contains no Quinine, Arsenic, or other poisons injurious to the system, that will cure Fever and Ague, intermittent or bilious fevers, &c., and the chills not return during the season. It permanently cures Fever and Ague of long standing.

HELP FOR THE HOPELESS. You are weak, dejected, miserable, and nothing does you any good, you say. Don't despair. There is balm in Giliead. Have you tried Vinegar Bitters? No! Then why don't you? Do not insist that such a thing as a vital elixir is impossible before you have tested the proprieties of this marvelous Vegetable Restorative. Whether your complaint be dyspepsia, billiousness, nervous weakness, constitutional debility, or any other trouble, Vinegar Bitters will revive and renovate your shattered system, as a genial rain refreshes the withered flowers.

DR. BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP.

Cough no more! How much joy there is in every household to know that they can at last procure a remedy for any case of coughs, severe colds settled on the breast, Consumption or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, that is certain to cure. It is a satisfaction to know that a person is safe from the dangers of these diseases—all you need do, is to go to your druggist, Chamberlaine, Middletown; H. P. Baker, Odessa, and E. W. Jester, St. Georges, Del., and get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup; two or three doses will relieve you at once. If you doubt what we say in print get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents.
